MOROCCO.

The preparations making by Spain for a war with Morocco, have attracted considerable attention towards that mongrel pation, chiefly made up of Moors and Arabs, with quite a number of Jews, whose distinctive quite a number of present purity. On- nov 17-dlw ly a few Europeans are established in the cities on the coasts, and they are highly favored by the present Emperor. The empire has a coast line of 200 miles on the Mediterranean, and 600 miles bordering on the Atlantic. It extends back on the South to the Music selected for this occasion is all new. The Sahara, or Great Sandy Desert. It is only separated from Algeria by a small river, and heace the interest which France has in the threatened war. The empire is the most westerly of the countries known as the Barbary States. The mutations it has undergone have not been greater than those of other ancient nations of which some remnants remain in something like an organized form .-It is divided into nearly equal parts by the Atlas chain. The principal cities are Mo- FOUNDED 1852. rocco, the residence of the Emperor: Fez, the capital of a province; Mogadore, Tangier, CORNER or BALTIMORE AND CHARLES STS. and Tetuan. Tangier, now a town of only 4000 inhabitants, was a place of great wealth and magnificence, and a great trading mart for the Phenicians, before the foundation of Carthage. It is situated near the entrance of the Straits of Gibraltar, and about thirtyfive miles from Gibraltar. The country has been in turns under the dominion of the Carthagenians, the Romans, the Vandals, the Saracens, in ancient times but the basis of the population was Moorish and Numidian, unpopulation was Moorish and Numidian, until the influx of the Arabs somewhat qualities. K. LOSIER, Principal—Lecturer on the Science fied the amalgam. In modern times, the Portuguese tried for many years to gain possession of Tangier, and, in 1471 succeeded. In 1662, the King of Portugal handed it over to Charles the Second as the dower of the Princess of Portugal. The English held it only for about twenty years, during the whole of which period it was kept in a continual state of siege by the Moors; and the English finding that it cost more than it was worth, abandoned it, after blowing up all the forts and the great mole. Tangier commands Gibraltar, and if it should fall into the hands Large Circulars and Catalogues, stating terms of the French Gibraltar would hardly be &c., sent by mail free of charge. Address worth holding. The present warlike demonof Morocco to suppress the Riff pirates, assumed to be the descendants of those famous corsairs who issued from the port of Sales, and carried terror into the harbors of the most distant nations of Christendom. Their vessels laid in wait for prizes at the mouth of the Thames and the Severn, and even pursued their prey through the stormy waters of the Baltie.

THE FASHIONS IN PARIS. Paris, October 29 .-- The style of the first empire is decidedly the prevailing tenden ey; but our celebrated court modiste, Madame Fauvet, 4 Rue de Minars, modifies the short waist and puffed sleeves, thus rendering them becoming and pretty. As a dinner dress, velvet will be worn. A black velvet costume, destined to figure at the approaching fetes at Compiegne, has a half high body cut square across the front, and ornamented with narrow frills of black lace on an at any time within six months, if not entirely saemerald green satin piece which forms a tisfactory. V. in front, at the edge of which the velvet is arranged as a revers; each row of lace terminates with a bow on the velvet revers; in the middle of this trimming there is a row of small ribbon bows. The front of the skirt is attached to the rounded and piped corsage by small flat plaits, between these three plaits on the shoulder-piece, and are terminated by a revers of green satin, private instruction, to one scholar $12; two scholar trimmed like the body, with lace frills and ars $10; three scholars $8. Terms for larger trimmed like the body, with lace frills and bows. A row of white lace decorates the top of the body, and one likewise falls from under the sleeve and shades the arm. The beautiful and durable Cambrai laces from the manufactory of Ferguson, 40 Rue des Janeurs, are much employed in the abovedescribed style of trimming for robes. They also increase daily in favor as decorations for winter cleaks and mantles, forming a more suitable addition to the heavy winter materials than do the light webs of the Chantilly laces .- Journal of Commerce.

LIBRARIES OF THE WEALTHY. A correspondent of the Newport Times gives an account of a New York lady, who, having come unexpectedly into the possession of a handsome fortune, persuaded her husband to abandon his calling as a "purveyor of provisions and fish," and to purchase a house in the" aristocratic neighborhood" of the Fifth Avenue. She had it furnished in a style, and with all the appurtenances, suited to the improved circumstances and rank of its owners. Of course, a library was not forgotten; and an elegant rose-wood book-case was provided. The question then was how to have it filled with books. Being, however, altogether illiterate, and unwilling to expose her ignorance to her acquaintances by asking their advice upon the matter, the lady, very naturally, left it to the discretion of the bookseller to whom she applied, given him no other directions than that the books he was to furnish should be of a size to fit the shelves of the book-case, and be uniformly and splen-

This story may be true; it quite probably is so. But there is nothing in it very singular. The like occurs every day where the a short walk of Culpeper depot, on the Orange and wealthy vulgar aspire to imitate the habits Alexandria Railroad, three hours ride from Alexand manners of the more refined and educa- andria. All the usual subjects will be taught .ted, though not unfrequently poorer, classes of society, with whom they desire to mingle.

the article which we have on hand, and for sale, at Thirty per cent. less than Peruvian Guano, and which we claim to be superior to any Guano or Fertilizer ever imported or manufactured in this country. This GUANO is imported by WM. H. WEBB, of New York, from Jarvis' and Bakers' Islands, in the "South Pacific Ocean," and is sold genuine and pure as imported. It has been satisfactorily tested by many of our prominent Farmers, and analyzed by the most eminent and popular Agricultural Chemists, and found to contain (as will be seen by our circulars) a large per cent. of

BONE PHOSPHATE OF LIME, PHOSPHORIC ACID. And other animal organic matter, yielding ammonia sufficient to produce immediate abundant crops, besides substantially enriching the soil. It can be freely used without danger of burning the seed or plant by coming in contact with it, as is the case with some other Fertilizers; retaining a great degree of moisture, it causes the plant to grow in sep 28-dly SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS. AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

The Charter of this Company offers more favora-ble advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thou-sand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering proand believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Cotspany. DIRECTORS : T. B. Robertson, James T. Close, Thomas T. Hill, W. D. Massey, R. H. Carter, H. W. Thomas, Edward Sangster, Dr. R. H. Stabler. P. D. Litescomb. Wm. Wright, R. F. Lester, T. Stuart.
